PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Software developer and graduate of the Paul Biya Centre of Technological Excellence, specialising in web and mobile development (JavaScript, Python, PHP, Next.js, NestJS, Flutter). Solid hands-on experience gained through several company internships, my current role as head of an IT unit and project manager, and a large-scale personal project that helps people find work in the informal sector. Independent and comfortable coordinating technical teams and running digital projects end to end, from design to deployment. Rigorous and curious, driven by the desire to learn and to share knowledge, including in a training setting.
